

2nd International Conference: Environment and Natural Resources Management in Developing and Transition Economies

Pre-conference on Migration and the Environment

Call for Papers

The CERDI (Centre for Studies and Research on International Development) from the University of Auvergne is organizing its 2nd Conference on Environmental Economics and Natural Resources Management in Developing and Transition Economies, to be held:

17-18-19 October 2012 - CERDI - Clermont University (Clermont-Ferrand, France)

A pre-conference on Migration and the Environment is co-organized with the University of Paris 1 (CES - Axis Development and Globalization) and the FERDI and IDDRI:

The conference is organized with the support of the European Association of Environmental and Resource Economists (EAERE)

Invited speakers are:

Ujjayant Chakravorty (Tufts University)
Katrin Millock (CES - CNRS - University of Paris 1)

Hillel Rapoport (Bar-Ilan University and EQUIPPE)
Cees Withagen (VU University)

For the pre-conference MIGRATION AND THE ENVIRONMENT, to be held on October 17th, you are invited to contribute on the following topics:

- Migration and remittances as means of adaptation to climate change and natural disasters

For thematic sessions, you are invited to contribute on the following topics:

- Deforestation: macroeconomic policies and deforestation, REDD and REDD+ mechanisms
- Weather insurance
- Low - carbon cities in emerging countries: transport, waste management, urban sprawl
- Economic valuation of the environment : stated and revealed preferences, experimental economics
- Agri-environmental policies : rural policies, farmers' behavior, land use conflicts
- Energy: biofuels, oil rent, energy technology transition and provision of energy services
- Biodiversity: instruments for conservation, economic value, payments for ecosystem services
- International trade and the environment: foreign direct investment, competitiveness
- Institutions and governance: national and international governance, environmental treaties, corruption
- Resources management: water, fisheries
- Health and the environment
- The private sector and the environment
- Financial, economic and environmental crises

This call for papers extends to all researchers working on the above topics. However, it does not exclude other contributions in the field of environment and development. Theoretical, empirical and policy-oriented works will be considered for oral presentation.

Papers submission

Full papers or work in progress (at least 5 000 words) with an abstract (150-250 words), 4-5 keywords and detailed contact information (authors' names and affiliations, postal addresses and emails of presenting authors - on a separate page) should be submitted at the following address: <http://enrmdte2012.sciencesconf.org/submission/submit>, from June 1st to June 30. Authors should indicate whether they submit their paper for the pre-conference or for thematic sessions. The papers to be submitted to the pre-conference will undergo the standard refereeing process.

Special issue

The editorial board of the journal Environment and Development Economics (EDE) has given a preliminary agreement for editing a special issue on the topic "the poverty-environment nexus" based on the papers presented at this Conference.

Registration fees

175€ regular, 80€ for PhD students (including conference materials, coffee breaks, 2 lunches and 2 dinners). A full refund of the registration fees will be given if the cancellation is received before October 1st, 2012.
